

Hello everyone, my name is Shea and I'm standing for the position of Treasurer for the 170th Session. I'm a second year Law with Politics student and I've attended the Literific since the 168th session.

For the past year I have been the Treasurer of the Law Society, the largest academic society on campus. My experiences in that role have equipped me with a set of skills that qualify me to serve as Treasurer on Council. I am acutely aware of the myriad financial procedures societies need to abide by, and can navigate the quagmire of bureaucracy that is the Student's Union Finance Office. I have also built up a good working relationship with the Finance Office staff, which will help us to get things done without undue hassle. Further to this, I have experience with budgeting events all throughout the year. This includes events such as the Law Ball, which cost around £20,000 and had 500 in attendance. Putting all the financial stuff aside, I am motivated to stand for this position out of a love of the Society, and a desire that it continues to flourish. If I am elected, I know that I have the skills and drive to do my bit and make that happen.

Regards,

Shea
